Clyde Fitch's Joke.
"Clyde Fitch was an indefatigable worker," said an actor who has played in many of the Fifth comedies. "When he had a play on the stocks he would labor over it day and night, often scarcely pausing for his meals and getting very little sleep; consequently his health suffered. He would work until on the verge of a nervous breakdown, and then his physician would step in and force him to knock off.

"During one of these periods of eaforced idleness he was louring in the Players club one day when Harry B. Smith, the prolific comic opera librettist, strolled in.

"'What are you doing now?' asked

"I was so startled," replied be, "that I asked what afterward seemed to me "'I am in my doctor's hands,' replied Fitch. 'He tells me I'm in a bad way and has absolutely forbidden me to do made. I asked ber if she'd lend me any brain work."

"That's tough, said Smith. 'How Dealer. do you manage to put in the time?" "Oh, I'm writing the libretto of a musical comedy!' replied Fitch, with one of his cynical smiles."-New York

"You don't know half how I thank you for the Cardui Home Treatment. I wish that all women who suffer from womanly trouble would treat themselves as I have."

Ladies can easily treat themselves at home, with Cardui, the woman's tonic. It is easy to take, and so gentle in its action, that it cannot do anything but good.

Being composed exclusively of vege-table ingredients, Cardui cannot lay up trouble in your system, as mineral drugs often do. Its ingredients having no harsh, medicinal effects, and being non-poisonous and perfectly harmless, Cardui is absolutely safe for young and old.
